ICA DOMUS TRUST
(Established in the memory of Dr. Mauritz Bonow)

The ICA DOMUS TRUST, registered in November 1988, was created in the memory of Dr. Karl Daniel Mauritz Bonow (of Sweden), former President of the International Co-operative Alliance (1962-1975). He was one of the pioneers in visualising the essentially for international aid for the development of the Co-operative Movement as an instrument of socio-economic transformation and development of economy in the developing countries in general, and, for the upliftment of the weaker sections of the society in particular. Dr. Mauritz Bonow dedicated his whole life for this cause. He initiated and introduced the idea of Swedish International assistance for co-operatives known as the Fund Without Boundaries. He was responsible for the establishment of the ICA Regional Office in Asia and for creating a permanent work-place for the Asia Pacific Region. In recognition of the work and contribution made by him the building housing the office of the ICA Regional Office at 43, Friends Colony, New Delhi was named Bonow House in 1975. ICA DOMUS TRUST had been established in his memory.

The main objectives of the ICA DOMUS TRUST are, among others propagation of co-operative principles, promotion of co-operatives, assist co-operative organisations/movements in encouraging genuine, self-supporting and technically sound co-operative organisations, bringing out publications for the promotion of teaching and study of co-operation, undertaking co-operative education and training activities and promoting collaboration between co-operatives and the state.

Any contributions made to the ICA DOMUS TRUST by way of donations and purchase of co-operative publication, would provide strength and acceleration to the process of achievement of the objectives of the Trust.

Subscribe to the Review of International Co-operation

Keep yourself informed of co-operative activities around the world by subscribing to the Review of International Co-operation.

The ICA News (now 5-6 issues per year) will be replaced by a new ICA MAGAZINE, which will initially appear quarterly. The magazine will be written in a journalistic style with short articles and photos. It will follow a common format; each issue will contain a Message from the President, a central theme which will receive more detailed treatment), news from the regions, news from the sectors, interviews with co-operative leaders and others, and other developments of general interest. The goal is to have an attractive and easily-readable publication which will be read, or at least glanced at, by senior people both within and outside the ICA system.

- ♦ The ICA Review of International co-operation (now 4 issues per year) will be reduced to two issue. The first will contain selected papers from the Research committee (thereby meeting ICA's obligation to support new thinking and research). Plus a selection of other commissioned and submitted papers. It will be reference document for people who have a special interest in co-operative matters and will not be targeted at the general public.
- ♦ The second review will contain the ICA Annual Report
- ♦ A copy of the Regional Office Newsletter

Annual Subscription: INR Rs. 2,000.00 (within India)

International Co-operative Alliance

STATEMENT ON THE CO-OPERATIVE IDENTITY

DEFINITION

A co-operative is an autonomous association of persons united voluntarily to meet their common economic, social, and cultural needs and aspirations through a jointly-owned and democratically-controlled enterprise.

VALUES

Co-operatives are based on the values of self-help, self-responsibility, democracy, equality, equity and solidarity. In the tradition of their founders, co-operative members believe in the ethical values of honesty, openness, social responsibility and caring for others.

PRINCIPLES

The co-operative principles are guidelines by which co-operatives put their values into practice.

1st Principle: Voluntary and Open Membership

Co-operatives are voluntary organisations, open to all persons able to use their service and willing to accept the responsibilities of membership, without gender, social, racial, political or religious discrimination.

2nd Principle: Democratic Member Control

Co-operatives are democratic organisations controlled by their members, who actively participate in setting their policies and making decisions. Men and women serving as elected representatives are accountable to the membership. In primary co-operatives members have equal voting rights (one member, one vote) and co-operatives at other levels are also organised in a democratic manner.

3rd Principle: Member Economic Participation

Members contribute equitably to, and democratically control, the capital of their co-operative. At least part of that capital is usually the common property of the co-operative. Members usually receive limited compensation, if any, on capital subscribed as a condition of membership. Members allocate surpluses for any or all of the following purposes: developing their co-operative, possibly by setting up reserves, part of which at least would be indivisible; benefiting members in proportion to their transactions with the co-operative; and supporting other activities approved by the membership.

4th Principle: Autonomy and Independence

Co-operatives are autonomous, self-help organisations controlled by their members. If they enter into agreements with other organisations, including governments, or raise capital from external sources, they do so on terms that ensure democratic control by their members and maintain their co-operative autonomy.

5th Principle: Education, Training and Information

Co-operatives provide education and training for their members, elected representatives, managers, and employees so they can contribute effectively to the development of their co-operatives. They inform the general public - particularly young people and opinion leaders - about the nature and benefits of co-operation.

6th Principle: Co-operation among Co-operatives.

Co-operatives serve their members most effectively and strengthen the co-operative movement by working together through local, national, regional and international structures.

7th Principle: Concern for Community

Co-operatives work for the sustainable development of their communities through policies approved by their members.
